IN DARKEST AFRICA . . . Declared by critics to be the most engrossing film narrative screened this year, "Stanley and Livingston," starring Spencer Tracy, Nancy Kelly and Richard Greene, opens tonight at the Grand theatre.

MANY SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS ON BOULEVARD

With colorful flag decorations, lights in the sky and music on the air, the grand opening of the Ideal Ranch Market at 2067 Torrance boulevard, corner of Engracia avenue, will be celebrated here tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday.

There will be balloon-blowing, picnicking and jitterbug contests each night, starting at 8:30 o'clock. The Ranch Gang, popular radio entertainers will present programs of special music from 3 to 6 and 7 to 9 o'clock each afternoon and evening. Jo Brown, noted clown, and his comedy horse, Wahoo, will also entertain the Market's throngs.

Frank Tiscareno is manager of the new store, which offers a complete line of all kinds of foodstuffs from meats to vegetables and thru the menu. The Ideal Ranch Market also stocks a wide variety of household supplies. Frank's brothers, Sal, Joe and Jake Tiscareno, are department managers.

GINGER'S A "MOTHER?" . . . Circumstantial evidence that points to Ginger Rogers as the mother of an abandoned baby is the basis for much of the comedy in the titian-haired star's current vehicle, "Bachelor Mother," co-starring David Niven. It opens Sunday at the Lomita theatre.

SURVEY SHIP NEAR COMPLETION . . . Little discussed but actually a major key in the new National Defense program is this new U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey ship, the "Explorer," rapidly nearing completion at the shipyards on the east side of Lake Washington, near Kirkland, Wash. The $1,250,000 vessel will be 220 feet long, 38 feet wide, and will develop 14 knots with her 2,000 horsepower engines. The "Explorer" will be used as a survey ship around the Alaska coast and the Hawaiian Islands, mapping out National Defense locations. Twenty-three officers and 70 men will comprise the crew.

Supervisor Would Lessen Tax Load For Home Owners

Reforms in taxation methods to lighten the burden of taxes now borne by property owners is being advocated by Roger Jessup, chairman of the Los Angeles county board of supervisors.

Jessup stated that at the next session of the board he would advocate appointment of a commission of five persons to study the problem and make recommendations.

"Our system of local taxation should be revised," Jessup declared. "In an earlier era when government was simple and confined itself largely to services from which property directly benefited, it may have been all right to make the common taxpayer bear the whole load. There seems no reason, however, why home owners should bear all of the cost of charities, old age benefits and other welfare activities while the non-property owner contributes nothing."

"Under our present system a large group of citizens benefit from police protection, fire, hospitals, public health, parks, free hospitalization, good roads and all other services of local government without contributing one cent toward paying for them."

"Home ownership goes hand in hand with good citizenship and should not be discouraged by excessive taxation which I believe is the case under our present method."

The chairman said he would insist that the proposed committee be confined to outstanding citizens capable of going into all legal and financial aspects of the problem to arrive at sound conclusions.

Extend Fair to October 8

In response to a demand from all parts of Southern California by those who were prevented from visiting Los Angeles County Fair because of the excessive heat of the first week and the rains of the first part of this week, the board of directors unanimously decided to extend the fair an additional week, making the closing date Sunday, Oct. 8. Originally the fair was to have closed at midnight Sunday, Oct. 1.

To add interest and zest to the closing days fair officials are arranging for new and added features and attractions. Some of the most important of the special days will be repeated. Every facility will be thrown into the effort to make the new closing days memorable.

NOVIS CONCERT FRIDAY
